

Royal College of Nursing Library

Client: Royal College of Nursing

Contract Value: £4 Million

Project duration: 2010–2013

Summary: Refurbishment and re-plan

BISSET

Bisset Adams were architects for the recently completed refurbishment and re-plan of the Royal College of Nursing's Grade II listed headquarters in central London, including a redesign of the library to act as a vibrant learning, reading and exhibition space with cafe and public access.

The newly refurbished library provides both a unique resource for nurses and acts as an advocate for the profession and its unique history through its archive collection and exhibition space.
